

Art Show & Raffle at the Feather

The work of Patrick Michael Karnahan, an accomplished artist, songwriter and musician, will join local artists during a special show and raffle at the Feather Community Arts Center on Saturday. Proceeds from the show and raffle will benefit the art center and future Railroad Days events. Doors will open to the public at 10:00 a.m. and close at 7:00 p.m., following an artists' reception and the results of the art raffle.

Karnahan's impressive portfolio embodies his passion for life, and his interests in railroads, aircraft and firefighting.

The past 20 years of Karnahan's career have also included commissions of several fine art posters, covers for both magazines and books, and calendars—including the notable OSH (Orchard Supply Hardware) calendar. With the success of distributing nearly a million calendars throughout California in 2008, OSH has already commissioned Karnahan for their 2011 Train Calendar.

Karnahan exhibits include such venues as California State Railroad Museum Railfair events, Penn State University as a part of America's Railroad History, the Smithsonian Museum Folklife Festival in Washington D.C., and the Kennedy Center. Karnahan's work for the August show will focus on railroads of Eastern California & Nevada.

Feather Community Arts Center

First built in 1930 by the International Order of Odd Fellows (IOOF) and later used as Portola's Masonic Lodge, The Feather Arts will host exhibits and a featured artist, as well as Cowboy Poetry and a slide show by retired Engineer Bob Larson. A special raffle will offer treasures from the local area.
